Engine, transmission and chassis. The new Astra VXR is not only one of the most powerful cars in its class, it's the fastest production Astra in Vauxhall's history. At its heart is a 2.0-litre turbocharged direct injection engine, producing 280PS of power and an impressive 400Nm of torque – capable of launching it to 60 miles per hour in 5.9 seconds.

The new Astra VXR presses home its advantage with several bespoke chassis modifications that transform it into a focused, high-performance coupé. It carries a traction-enhancing, mechanical multi-plate limited-slip differential that enables you to put all that power down when you need it. Combined with a sophisticated HiPerStrut (High Performance Strut) front suspension system, the LSD provides the new Astra VXR with exceptional lateral grip and traction through bends and also isolates the steering from the effects of engine torque boosting steering precision. All this complemented by a Watts link semi-independent set-up in the rear.

Further changes to the chassis include brakes developed by competition supplier, Brembo, and the standard fitment of Vauxhall's fully adaptive FlexRide system with Continuous Damping Control (CDC) technology. In the new Astra VXR, FlexRide not only features a Sport button, but a VXR button, offering drivers the choice of two, more acute stages of damper, throttle and steering control.

Standard 19-inch five-spoke alloy wheels with 245/40 R 19 ultra-low profile tyres.

Optional 20-inch five-Y-spoke forged bi-colour alloy wheels with 245/35 R 20 ultra-low profile tyres.
